CALENDAR OF EVENTS

FEBRUARY 2023

February 2...Montgomery County 10 AM. Board Meeting of Alabama Forever Wild Land Trust at the Alabama Activities Center, 201 Dexter Avenue, Montgomery. This meeting provides petitioners an opportunity to convince board members that their particular property should be purchased by Forever Wild. For more information call (334) 242-3484. Editor's Question: Forever Wild has already converted almost 300,000 acres of private land to government ownership. How much is enough?

February 3...Online at 11:15 - 11:30 AM CT. Fifteen Minutes in the Forest: Boundary Lines will join Virginia Forest Landowner Education Program's Jason Fisher. Jason will help explain why, as a landowner, one of the most important things you can do is locate and mark your boundary lines. This is especially important before conducting any type of forest management activity. This event will be held via Zoom meeting, Facebook Live, or YouTube Premier. For more information contact Jason Fisher at (434) 476-2147.

February 6-10...Tallapoosa County 8 AM - 4 PM. Learn to Burn at Wind Creek State Park, 4325 AL Highway 128, Alexander City. Experience a day-long "start to finish" learning opportunity. Actively participate with ignition patterns, holding techniques, and mop up. The prescribed burn will be conducted on the first available burn window between February 6-10. Depending on weather conditions, selected participants will be given 2 days advanced notice before the program is held. Space is limited to 30 participants. For more information contact Drew Metzler at (334) 313-0478.

February 7-12...Twin City, Georgia 8:30 AM - 2 PM. Learn & Burn Field Day at The Hodges Farm. Gain hands-on prescribed burning experience with other landowners. No experience necessary. The prescribed burn will be conducted on the first available burn window between February 7-12. Depending on weather conditions, selected participants will be given at least 24 hours advanced notice before the confirmed date. Space is limited. For more information contact Tiffany Woods at (706) 540-2927.

February 8...NATIONWIDE 10:00 AM Central Time. CAPITAL IDEAS - LIVE! 15-minute Web Supported Telephone News Conference for Alabama Forest Owners. Listen on your phone or later on the web. Call AFOA to register: (205) 624-2225.

February 9...Shelby County 6 to 8 PM. Dinner and Discussion at The Anvil Pub, 611 Doug Baker Boulevard, Suite 103, Hoover, AL 35242. The Anvil Pub is near Tazikis in the Lee Branch Shopping Center. No-host dinner at 6 PM. Then listen to a 15 minute program, and discuss the issues with other forest landowners. Limited seating. To attend, RSVP AFOA at (205) 624-2225 or rl@afoa.org.

February 10...Guyton, Georgia 8:30 AM - 4 PM ET. Second Forest Carbon Landowner Workshop at the Mary Kahrs Warnell Forest Education Center, 5960 GA Highway 17 South. Efforts for mitigating atmospheric carbon are opening new opportunities for forest landowners worldwide. Regulatory and Voluntary Carbon Markets are providing financial incentives for additional carbon stored on family forestlands. The objectives of the workshop are to a) develop an understanding of forest carbon markets, b) determine the economics of forest carbon payments, c) identify emerging opportunities in the area of forest carbon markets, and d) provide feedback on socially acceptable forest management practices for increasing carbon stored on forestlands. Fee: $15. Space limited to 35 attendees. For more information contact Gail Westcott at (912) 330-0531.

February 11-12...Jackson County. Trappers Education Workshop at the Jackson County Wildlife Management Area, 234 County Road 141, Hollywood. The workshop passes on the historical aspects of trapping, biological information concerning furbearers and furbearer management, and allows students to learn the proper techniques that include the use of trapping as a sound wildlife management tool. Recommended ages 7 and up. Pre-registration is required. Fee: $10. Contact Mike Sievering at (205) 340-1183.

February 13-17...Bullock County 8 AM - 4 PM. Learn to Burn attendees will experience a day-long "start to finish" learning opportunity. Actively participate with ignition patterns, holding techniques, and mop up. The prescribed burn will be conducted on the first available burn window between February 13-

17. Depending on weather conditions, selected participants will be given 2 days advanced notice before the program is held. Register early as space is usually limited. For more information contact Ryan Mitchell at (251) 423-9415.

February 14...Online 12 Noon - 1:15 PM CT. ForestHer Webinar Series: Working with a Consulting Forester will be presented via Zoom. This lunch and learn is for women that own forestland or are just interested in learning more about forestry. Join during your lunch break as Leigh Peters, Alabama Forestry Association, discusses working with a consulting forester. Pre-registration required. For more information contact Becky Barlow at (334) 844-1019.

February 15...Online 12 Noon - 1 PM CT. Bats of Alabama will be presented via Zoom with a live question & answer session. This webinar will cover the current status, trends, and forest habitat relationships of the bats of Alabama. Presented by Dr. William Stone, Alabama A&M University. Registration required. For more information contact Bence Carter at (334) 693-3800.

February 15-17...Panama City Beach, Florida. Southeastern Society of American Foresters Annual Meeting at Bluegreen's Bayside Resort. Fee: $500 non-member. For more information contact Susan McMichael at (706) 457-1842.

February 16...Philadelphia, Mississippi 12 PM Noon. Forestry Economic Development at the Neshoba County Coliseum. Speaker: Butch Bailey. For more information or to RSVP call (601) 656-4011.

February 16...Brandon, Mississippi 6 PM. Logger Considerations at Rankin County Extension Office, 601 Marquette Road. Speaker: John Auel. For more information or to RSVP call (601) 825-1462.

February 17...Tallapoosa County 4 - 8 PM. Regional Landowner Dinner at Central Alabama Community College, 1675 Cherokee Road, Alexander City. The dinner will feature speakers providing the latest updates on current wild turkey research as well as other useful information including timber market updates and conditions. Dinner provided. For more information contact Drew Metzler at (256) 825-1050.

February 18-19...Baldwin County. Trappers Education Workshop at the District V Wildlife Office, 30571 Five Rivers Boulevard, Spanish Fort. GOOD TIMES, BAD TIMES, You Know We've Had Our Share: "Unfortunately, 2022 ended with a slowing economy, dour forecasts, declining stumpage prices, and lumber-adjusted housing starts well under 1.2 million (a benchmark for demand). Other than that, we are just fine. The trees are still growing, our land is not shrinking, and we still have one of the most robust markets for trees in the world. But I think the next six months may not be a lot of fun." Source: Marshall Thomas, President, F&W Forestry Services, F&W Forestry Report, Winter 23.

STORM DAMAGE "On January 12, 2023 the State of Alabama suffered damages throughout several counties as a result of severe storms, straight-line winds, and tornadoes. There was approximately a 218-mile stretch of storms that produced several tornadoes across Alabama and Georgia. An EF-2 with winds of 130 MPH impacted Selma, Alabama, and an EF-3 tornado with winds of 150 mph ran 76.7 miles leaving a path of destruction across several counties. The Alabama Forestry Commission is encouraging landowners affected to reach out to their local Farm Service Agency \(FSA\) offices to request the Emergency Forest Restoration Program (EFRP). ..." VISION STATEMENT: "We exist to empower members of the 'Forestry Community' in the US South to make more informed business decisions about the management and valuation of their forests and timber resources." Source: TimberMart-South. See upper left column, page 2.

MUSHROOMS OF THE GULF COAST STATES: A Field Guide to Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida by Alan Bessette, Arleen Bessette, and David Lewis was recommended as a good source of information on mushrooms by Alisha Millican, President of the Alabama Mushroom Society during Episode 371 of The Land Show. Cost: $39.95 hardcover.

INTERESTING PARADOX: At the same time the federal government is considering banning gas kitchen stoves, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is offering grants to firewood banks of up to $15,000 to buy equipment like chainsaws, log splitters, and storage sheds. Source: National Woodlands, Vol. 45, No. 4.

STATE OF THE FOREST: Alabama is "an attractive place to expand existing business and even establish new ones." New data shows that forested acres in Alabama "are holding steady at 23 million. Our estimated tree volume set another new record and was up 2.68 percent over 2021. Softwoods, led by loblolly pine, showed a 3.19 percent increase, versus a 2.28 percent increase for all hardwood volume. As has been the trend, the volume increases are concentrated in the larger diameter classes, as Alabama's forest resource overall is trending older and there are fewer acres in low volume / recently replanted stands. Total timber volume in the state is split 50/50, almost to the ton, softwood versus hardwood." Source: Tree Topics, January 2023.

TECHNOLOGY REPORT: Alabama ranked #42 in Successful Farming's survey of Internet Coverage, Speed, and Price Access. While you're waiting for local cable companies and state subsidies to deliver broadband to your house, Laurie Bedord, Successful Farming's Technology Editor suggests signing up for Starlink. Currently providing access to the internet with about 2,000 satellites, their goal is to deploy 12,000.

FOREST PROFILES:

FOREST PRODUCTS MANUFACTURERS by Paige Townley

Buettner Brothers Lumber Company knows the building material and home supplies needs of North Alabama. They've been serving those needs since the company opened back in 1892.

With a great emphasis placed on providing high quality products and outstanding customer service, Buettner Brothers continues to provide a wide range of offerings to serve those needs today, including lumber, building materials, windows, cabinets, shelving, and even custom millwork like various sizes of plantation swings, screen doors, picnic tables, Adirondack chairs, and rocking chairs.

Since 1958, the Cullman-based business has also included a truss division. One of the first original truss builders in the state, the company specializes in custom engineered wood trusses and builds both floor and roof truss systems for both commercial and residential use. All of the company's trusses are built with #2 or better lumber and they build them for customers locally as well as all over the Southeast.

While the business continues to evolve—it's now in its fourth generation—there's one thing that will never change at Buettner Brothers: it's continuous commitment to quality and to customers.

COALITION FORMED IN ALABAMA to fight the spread of Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) of cervids (deer in Alabama). Seven timber companies and four conservation organizations formed the coalition in December. "CWD is transmitted animal-to-animal and from contact with infectious material." To prevent unnatural concentration of deer, the Coalition, in its Best Management Practices flyer discourages "baiting and feeding of wild cervids."

FOREST PROFILES: CONSULTING FORESTERS by Paige Townley

Charles Ledbetter knew rather early on in life precisely what he wanted to do for a career. "By the time I was in 9th grade, I knew I wanted to be a forester," he explained.

Though no one in his family was in the industry, he learned about the occupation through others within the community, so that's exactly what he did. After graduating from Auburn University, he went into his first job in the industry, which was working for Scotch Plywood and moved him to Meridian, Mississippi. After a few years, a round of layoffs took his job. "I started looking for another job, but I kept getting calls from people needing this or that," he said.

Those phone calls soon turned into his own business, C. Ledbetter Forestry Consultant. Though still based in Mississippi, Ledbetter continues to offer land management services to private landowners in west central Alabama as well. From timber sales and replanting to site prep, he offers clients a variety of services all aimed at their specific needs. "It's complete customized management," he said. "Every tract of timber is like every landowner—there are no two exactly the same."

THE DEER AND THE ANTELOPE may play on private land, but they do not belong to private landowners.

- Wildlife resources are a public trust. In 1842, the U.S. Supreme Court declared that wildlife resources could not be owned by individuals, rather wildlife belongs to all people and is managed in trust by government agencies.
- Wildlife is an international resource. Migratory fish and wildlife move across boundaries of states, provinces, and countries; therefore, international policies are necessary to ensure proper management of these resources.

STORM DAMAGED TIMBER: "If timber from the disaster is salvaged, a taxable gain may still result." "The Internal Revenue Code allows, under certain circumstances, for gain from an involuntary conversion (such as a casualty loss) to be deferred. To be eligible to defer the gain, the landowner must use the gain to purchase a qualifying replacement property. The purchase of seedlings, planting, restoration/repair work on culverts, fences, gates, and roads, or the purchase of a replacement timber site, all qualify as replacement property. The landowner has two years to replace the property." Source: Tax Considerations Before and After a Natural Disaster by Tamara Cushing, The Consultant, 2023.

SASSAFRAS: We always knew that when you scratch the root of a sassafras tree, it smells just like A & W Root Beer. But we didn't know that sassafras "is a dioecious species, with male and female flowers occurring on separate trees." Nor did we know that sassafras is allelopathic, producing chemicals that inhibit the growth of neighboring trees and plants." Source: The Wood in Your Woods: Sassafras by Jeff Joseph, New York Forest Owner, Jan/Feb 2023.

"MANY ANDROID PHONES TO GET SATELLITE CONNECTIVITY," reported BBC News on 1/6/23. "A new partnership between the satellite phone firm Iridium and chip giant Qualcomm will bring satellite connectivity to premium Android smartphones later in the year. It means that in places where there is no mobile coverage, handsets can connect with passing satellites to send and receive messages."
